A photograph of a dining table after a meal. The table is covered with a white tablecloth and is in a state of disarray. There are several white plates with remnants of food, including bones and crumbs. Two woven baskets filled with bread are visible. Several wine glasses are scattered around, some containing red wine, and a large spill of red wine is prominent in the center. Crumpled white napkins and silverware are also visible. A semi-transparent dark blue banner is overlaid at the top, and two orange banners are at the bottom.
